

"What do Sarah Jessica Parker, Reese Witherspoon and Mischa Barton all have in common? Not only are they all on Hollywood's A-list, but they also all got their help with the same man. Peter Sklar is a talent scout responsible for helping those actresses and many others launch their careers."

NBC TV News

"My partner and I are in the industry, and I wish I had heard this when I was a kid. I might have been a little smarter. That's how important this information was."

Diana Castore, Dance With Me, NJ

"Renowned talent scout, Peter Sklar, knows a thing or two about spotting the next child star. He's a talent coach, educator, speaker and author. He's in town this weekend and joins us with what parents need to know if they think they have a talented child. He's going to help young people understand the truth behind the dream."

FOX TV News

"It was refreshing to hear you speak so honestly about life to my students and parents. It reflected so much of what I believe in and am about."

Anita Giza, Anita's Performing Arts, MI

"For 90 minutes Sklar manages to hold the attention of his young audience... There is pin drop silence in the room as Sklar imparts the critical steps the young performers need to take in order to 'make it' in the entertainment industry."

The Broadcaster, Nashua, NH

"World-renowned talent scout Peter Sklar spent the day breaking the news, good and bad, to dozens of Hollywood hopefuls. These kids may have talent, but can they make a living from it? That's what Sklar wants to teach them."

CBS TV News

"Peter Sklar's most recent visit to Chicago this summer was an incredible event with almost 700 people in attendance over two days. Judging from the many enthusiastic letters and telephone calls we've received, his visit was a huge success."

Wayne Kennedy, Agent,
North Shore Talent, IL

"For those with stars in their eyes, this [information] could easily be the ultimate break."

The New York Times

"Today we are joined by Peter Sklar who is a talent scout and will be giving a lecture here coming up tonight and tomorrow night about what it takes to make it into this big picture."

ABC TV News

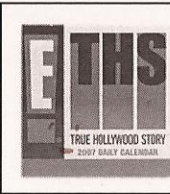

"Your presentation helped create a vital bridge between the world of entertainment and our school. The students involved gained, not only from your insights and experiences, but from your willingness to give of yourself."

Jill Resnick and Kevin Sheehan,
Oceanside Middle School, NY

"Mischa [Barton] needed to learn the basics, so she studied under Peter Sklar, director of the Beginnings Workshop in New York. His former students include Sex and the City star Sarah Jessica Parker and Oscar-winner Reese Witherspoon. According to Sklar, Mischa stood out."

E! True Hollywood Story

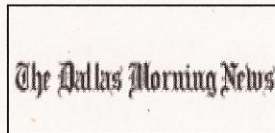

"Thanks so much for your fascinating presentation to our kids. We have had many warm, enthusiastic responses to your talk. Parents brought their kids from homes up to two hours away. I cannot overestimate the value of your appearance at our school."

Patricia A. Noonan,
Broadway School of Music and Arts, PA

"Producer Peter Sklar, who specializes in stage and screen children, gives down-to-earth advice about the business of being a child star."

Dallas Morning News

"Discussing the entertainment industry in gentle, professorial tones, the Harvard-trained counselor and adolescent development specialist explained that while talent and training are important, what's paramount is a young person's self-image."

The Observer-
Reporter,
Pittsburgh, PA

